REGISTRATION END FOR CITY'S NEXT ELECTION IS NEAR

Balloting June 6 on State Issues to Create Local Interest

REGISTER BY WEDNESDAY

Persons Not Previously Enrolled on Electors' Books Must Sign

With the issues still unsettled, but it virtually known that several matters of vital importance to the people will be voted on June 6, Mrs. Roy Creighton, local registrar of voters, today said that registration for the election will close next Wednesday.

The proposed June 6 election will be state-wide and will give the voters an opportunity to express their wishes on certain proposed state constitutional amendments and the repeal or retention of the eighteenth amendment.

Definite arrangements for the voting have not been made, but Mrs. Creighton has been advised to close her registration books Wednesday.

Change in the state's system of taxation is under consideration by the legislators and it is likely a constitutional amendment will be presented to the voters concerning a new form of taxation.

Lines are being drawn in this county and throughout the southland for the ballot battle expected over the question of the nation's eighteenth amendment. The election would result in the selection of representatives to attend a convention and decide this state's attitude on the amendment.

News was received here today that the Riley proposed tax plan lost in the asembly.t It had been the object of addresses by Hobart R. Alter, assemblyman, during the legislative recess. In general the proposal met with approval here. It called for a shift in the tax burden from real estate to a form of sales tax. Its defeat in the assembly at Sacramento is expected to lead to some other measure of tax reform, which will be presented to the voters to decide on June 6.

Lions Clubs of Two Cities in Meeting

Upland Lion club members met with the Ontario Lions club for a joint session Wednesday noon, the meeting being held in the Casa Blanca hotel. Norman S. Lawson, Upland president, presided for a short time with Robert Schaeffer, president of the Ontario club, in charge of the meeting.

Dr. Kenneth C. Duncan of Pomona college discussed the financial situation and pointed out recent developments that have aided in giving the public confidence in the banks.

Auctioneer Will "Cry" Sales Here

H. J. Caldwell

AUCTIONEER TO CONDUCT SALES

Upland's $5 "Auction" Money Will Be Used by Public Tomorrow

The familiar voice and professional auctioneering abilities of Col. H. J. Caldwell will be evident in Upland tomorrow afternoon and evening when two community auctions will be held.

Upland's "new deal" auction money will be used by the public to purchase various articles given by the merchants. Bidding will come at 2:30 p. m. and 8 p. m., in the business district.

With more strict regulations concerning the auction sales and with youths prohibited from taking part in the bidding, the auctions tomorrow are expected to be recorded as highly successful events. This auction idea is a new one and on the basis of experience of last week those in charge have asked that only adults do the buying with the auction money. The "auction" money, however, will be issued to the youths by the merchants as they make purchases, this "money" to be given to an adult member of the family.

With each purchase of at least 25 cents, a $5 auction bill will be issued by the merchants. With the money the customers have collected in purchases from the various merchants, the public will participate in the bidding.

Articles valued up to $2 will be up for bidding by the public. Groceries, meats, clothing and various kinds of services were bought by the bidders last week.

MISS LACKEY DIES IN SUDDEN ILLNESS

Victim of Recent Automobile Crash Suffers Attack of Meningitis

Succumbing to an attack of spinal meningitis, believed to have resulted from injuries received in an automobile accident on March 1, Miss Hazel Lackey, aged 20 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Lackey, 382 Laurel avenue, died in a Los Angeles hospital at 4 o'clock Thursday morning.

After being critically ill in the Los Angeles hospital for several weeks after the accident, in which W. J. Pinckley, driver of the car, was killed, Miss Lackey recovered sufficiently to be brought home to her sister, Mrs. W. W. Wickham (Anna Lackey) in Pomona, where she had been for some time, apparently recovering her health, though still under supervision of the hospital physicians.

On Easter Sunday Miss Lacke came to Upland for her first prolonged visit with her parents and the occasion was made a happy one with all members of the family gathering for a reunion in celebration of her recovery.

However, she suddenly became ill and was rushed to Los Angeles where her physicians diagnosed the attack as meningitis, resulting from the injury.

Miss Lackey had lived in Upland since 1919, coming with her parents from Oklahoma. Besides her parents, she is survived by two sisters, Miss Opal Lackey of the parental home and Mrs. W. W. Wickham of Pomona, and a brother, Travis Lackey of Santa Monica.

Funeral service will be held at 2:30 Saturday afternoon at the Stone funeral home. The officiating minister will be the Rev. Herschel R. Griffin, pastor of the First Baptist church of Ontario, of which Miss Lackey was a member. Interment will take place in Bellevue cemetery.

KITE WINNERS IN APPEARANCE ARE ANNOUNCED TODAY

Distance Competition Under Way This Afternoon as Many Entered

PRIZES WILL BE GIVEN

Judges Select Best Looking, Best Constructed Kites in Annual Event

Six winners in the annual kite tournament were announced this morning and they will bring financial prizes—if they fly. The awards will be given for excellency in workmanship and construction, the only condition being that the kites must fly.

Starting at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, the flying contests were under way, and later in the day awards will be given to all winners in various features of the contest.

Following are the selections of the judges on the appearance and workmanship contest:

Division A—Elwin Engle and Jack Craig, who worked as partners in the kite construction, first; Walter Harms, second, and George Foote, third.

Division B — Billy Stickney, first; Owen Alderfer, second, and Moses Martinez, third.

"A" division is for students above the sixth grade and the "B" division for those under the sixth grade. Awards are: First, 75c; second, 50c, and third, 25c.

Considerable more competition was evident in this afternoon's contest as scores of boys and girls lined up their kites for the distance events. The youths' kites going out the farthest win the prizes. There is one speed contest, however, with two representatives from each of the schools entered.

Under the direction of the Upland Rotary and Lions clubs and the chamber of commerce and civic association, the kite tournament is being held, scene of the flying contests being in the vicinity of Campus avenue and Eleventh street.

Floyde L. Atwood, Kenneth I. Hanson and Avery Allen were judges in the appearance and workmanship contest.

Methodists Begin Series of Meetings

First of a series of church night meetings attracted about 75 persons of the Upalnd Methodist church in Fellowship hall Wednesday night. On every Wednesday night at 6:30 o'clock for the next five weeks a pot luck dinner will be served. Dr. Engle will conduct a half hour devotional program. Following this, an hour will be devoted to either a forum discussion of church, local and national problems, or to addresses on popular topics.

Ernest H. Gibson, general chairman, outlined the plans for the series of meetings, and appointed committee chairmen to handle various features.

The official board of the church met in conjunction with the meeting Wednesday and made preparations for the election of delegates to the quarterly conference May 26. A. H. Johnson was chosen judge and Bert Hendy and John Engle tellers for the election.

Chaffey and Fontana Educators Will Meet

To develop a closer feeling between the Chaffey high school and junior college board of education and the Fontana school board, a joint meeting of the two boards will be held at Fontana tomorrow night.

Common problems will be discussed. Re-election of H. S. Barbee of Fontana as a member of the Chaffey board at the March election has met with wide approval there.

Assemblyman Alter Tells Why Voters Must Pass on Measures

Hobart R. Alter, assemblyman from this, the 72nd district, apparently has the idea that voters of the state are of the opinion the state legislature is somewhat inclined to "pass the buck" in regard to various bills which come up for consideration in the legislative halls at Sacramento. In a leter to the editor of the Upland News, Mr. Alter explains the legislature's actions in this regard. He says:

Dear Mr. Guy:

I have noticed that there seems to be some misunderstanding as to why the legislature passes the various tax proposals on to the people to be voted on at a special election. The Riley plan and the Feigenbaum plan require the repeal of amendment No. 1 of the state constitution before either can become operative. The legislaure cannot alter the constitution, but can only refer the matter to the people to decide upon. The legislature will be left wide discretionary powers in the levying of the tax which will replace that which is to be taken off of real estate if the Riley plan should be adopted. The legislature could levy a sales tax by statute for the balancing of the budget, but this would give no relief to the counties.

In regard to our recent action on the sixty day moratarium. The sub-committee of three, which includes Wiliam F. Knowland of Oakland, Frank G. Martin of Altadena and myself, in conjunction with Sam Green, original author of the bill, worked this out and put it through in order to give temporary relief until we can work out something better. We have a quarterly payment plan ready to bring out of committee and also are trying to work out a plan to bring back that property onto the tax rolls again which has already been sold for taxes. The only objection to the quarterly plan is that it entails more expense in the tax collector's office.

This plan cannot become operative until next year, according to the tax collectors whom we have consulted in the matter, because of the necessity of revising so many office accounts, etc.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS WEEK OBSERVANCE

A Capella Choir To Make Appearance at Event Sponsored by Masons

Public schools week, which was originated by the Masonic order and has grown into national observance, will be observed by a program at Chaffey junior college auditorium next Thursday evening, being sponsored by Upland and Ontario lodges, and beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

The program will differ fr m those given here in previous years on such occasions. There will be a short address, as usual, but in addition the Chaffey junior college a capella choir will make its first public appearance in a number of its best selections and several of the soloists will also sing. This group, chosen from the larger choruses, numbers about 40 voices and represents the finest talent in the college, being under the direction of S. Earle Blakeslee.

President Gardiner W. Spring of Chaffey junior college has consented to give a brief address, which means the audience will be given something worth while, but the major portion of the program will be given to the musical features.

The public is cordially invited to enjoy the event—and there will be no admission charge.

CITY TO CLEAN UP IN SPECIAL WEEK

Annual Period to Rid Community of Rubbish May Come Next Month

Within a short time the city will have a clean-up week.

At that time property owners will be asked to do their part in making the city look its best, in cleaning up unused corners and vacant lots and to prevent the spread of weeds.

When it appears definitely that no more rain will fall, plans will be made for the clean-up period, according to Richard G. Manley, city service manager. The special week will probably be held in May.

Concerning the dumping of rubbish, Mr. Manley explained that the city has no dump yard, and that rubbish should not be dumped on any vacant property unless permission of the property owner has been obtained. An area east of Campus avenue near Eleventh street has been used by some as a dumping ground. Due to complaints, this practice has been stopped, the city erecting barricades across the road leading to the site used as a dump.

In areas more distant from the residential section and in the rocky washes, rubbish, cans and the like can be dumped, Mr. Manley said, adding that permission should be first obtained from the owner.

Dance Numbers Are Planned as Features of Comedy

Ronald Ingold as "Chicago" and Glen Ball as "Slippery," giving the third degree to 'Licorice," the dark house man. These gangsters break into the party, disguised as caterers in "Hickory, Dickory, Dock," new Chaffey junior college musical comedy, premier of which takes place May 4 and 5.

"Hickory, Dickory, Dock," the new collegiate mystery musical comedy, premier of which by Chaffey jaysee glee clubs is set for May 4 and 5 in Chaffey high auditorium, will be replete with intriguing dance numbers, according to announcement today. The variety and originality of this essential part of the production is assured by the fact Dorothy Williams, widely known artist and instructor, has assumed full charge of the group routines and specialties, composing the dances as well.

The jaysee girls team of eight, featured with such universal approval in the "Prince of Pilsen" last year, will be seen in three numbers created for them, most striking of which is the "Skeleton Dance," something never before given on a local stage. This unique fantasy calls for special costumes and lighting effects, which are being brought direct from Chicago. Hhe dance motivates with Licorice, the darky house man, who has the most abject fear of 'spooks' and 'haunts,' and will be a high light of the production. The team includes Marie Jones, Gloria Foss, Rae Jean Gillilan, Esther Guy, Louise Norton, Ruth Hilty, Marian Gillilan and Gladys Bowden. Their other numbers are a strut dance and a musical comedy tiller routine.

Helen Guy and George Somes, who have no equal locally for their eccentric comedy duos, present a number which eclipses their previous success in the "'Prince of Pilsen." This is in connection with the solo, "Cause I'm So Sleepy," composed for this scene.

HOSPITAL DEBT IS DECREASED; $30,000 IS REMAINDER DUE

G. A. Hanson Re-Elected Head of Board at Annual Meeting This Week

1932 INCOME IS LESS

Interest on Sum Due Is Approximately $200 Month, Dr. Aita States

The San Antonio Community hospital was able to reduce its debts during 1932, but a sum of approximately $30,000 is still due, according to reports today following the annual meeting this week. This is the remainder due after the construction and furnishing of the building several years ago. Interest payments are approximately $200 a month and this sum, in addition to operating expenses is being met.

Recognizing the faithful leadership and dependable counsel of G. A. Hansan, other directors of the San Antonio Community hospital re-elected the local man president of the hospital board for another year. All other officers and directors were re-elected as follows:

E. H. Richardson, vice-president; W. K. Beattie, treasurer; Dr. A. A. Aita, general manager, and Miss Lily Grobli secretary.

The hospital is in better financial condition than ever, annual reports state. Dr. Aita said that even though business was not of record vollme in 1932, the institution was able to reduce its indebtedness, added approximately $3200 worth of equipment and expended $1000 in repairs.

Car Driver Held on Recklessness Charge

Francisco Sanchez, Del Rosa Mexican, is today in the Upland jail awaiting trial on a reckless driving charge, following an accident April 9. His trial has been set for April 25 before Judge George R. Crane.

His car was allegedly the cause of an accident on Foothill boulevard near Campus avenue.

Workman Suffers Back Injury Due to Fall

Charles Short, a member of the Upland labor camp, is in the San Antonio Community hospital today, suffering from a wrenched back, suffered when he fell while working Wednesday. While carrying a box containing dynamite his ankle turned and as he fell the heavy load injured his back.

Legion Auxiliary Delegates Secure Poppies for Sale

Representing the Upland unit American Legion Woman's Auxiliary, Mrs. W. J. Larkin, Mrs. Thos. E. Howarton, Mrs. Earl E. Marsh, Mrs. Sam L. Lamb, Mrs. Herbert Metz and Mrs. L. H. Cortright attended the Twenty-first district meeting held Tuesday in Anaheim.

A number of past department presidents and district officers were present and made talks.

Mrs. Howarton, state chairman of legislation, speaking for the absent poppy chairman, stressed the importance of the poppy sales this year and urged that efforts be made to sell more poppies than ever before, since there will be greater need for assistance among the disabled veterans.

The Upland group brought home the supply of poppies to be sold in Upland and the pie sale to be held tomorrow is for the purpose of raising money to pay for the poppies.

BASEBALL WILL BE ENDED AT CHAFFEY

No Regular Diamond Sport for Next Year Is Plan—Indoor Ball Likely

Baseball—and maybe other athletics—will be a thing of the past on the Chaffey campus next year.

By action of the student leaders, themselves, it has been tentatively decided that Chaffey will have no baseball team in the Citrus Belt league next year. The schedule for this year has been greatly curtailed.

Reason for the lack of baseball activity is finances and interest. The general public does not attend the Chaffey games, consequently the proceeds are virtually nothing. The cost of equipping the team with suits, balls and bats mounts into many dollars.

What will take the place of the diamond sport is not yet known. Perhaps some form of indoor baseball may come into popularity. A league of indoor ball among the students is seen. Chaffey authorities are considering the possibility of curtailing other athletics. Before the close of the school year, more may be known as to the scope of the football and basketball activity for next year.

Charles Settle, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. H. Settle, is recovering from a severe attack of tonsilitis, which kept him in bed for several days.

BUSINESS FIRMS PAY UP LICENSES

Nearly Every Concern Here Meets Bill for City License

Upland business firms are nearly 100 per cent in the payment of their license taxes, it was reported at the Upland police station, where the accounts are kept. Payment can be made on a quarterly basis, but some firms have paid annually, others having paid the first quarter fee and will soon be asked to pay for the second quarter.

Even in the plan last year of paying annually in advance, only a few concerns were in default. The quarterly payment plan was adopted to meet general business conditions and indications so far point to virtually unanimous approval of the plan.

Money obtained from the business licenses goes to aid in the support of the police department and other city activities.

219 Members Gained by Upland Chamber

Total of 219 memberships in the Upland chamber of commerce and civic association have been issued, Avery S. Allen, secretary, said today. Names added since the publication of the list in The Upland News last Friday follow:

Harry Brown, Upland postoffice clerk, Pautz Cabinet & Fixture Co., W. A. Mackay and San Antonio Meat Co.

CUCAMONGA READY FOR NEXT WEEK'S SHOW OF FLOWERS

Third Annual Exhibit Will Be Opened April 28, With Many Entries

GAIN OVER 1932 EVENT

Sunken Garden Effect at Central School Scene of Big Display

Due to hearty cooperation on the part of local merchants and community boosters, and to the active part taken by the flower show committee, the third annual spring flower show to be held at the Central school in Cucamonga on April 28 and 29, is an assured success.

Several prominent commercial growers in the West End will exhibit and entries in both the amateur and the grammar school classes will be larger than last year.

Three trophy cups will be given, one by the Cucamonga-Alta Loma Woman's club, one by the First National Bank of Cucamonga, and the annual Judge James Sharp cup.

In addition to these cups, $60 worth of prizes have been donated by Cucamonga business houses and individuals.

A most beautiful setting has been planned for the show this year in the auditorium of the Central school. As seen from the stage, the show room will appear as a sunken garden with a lily pool near the center of the display, banked with roses in the rear, annuals to the right, perennials to the left and iris and bulbous flowers in the foreground.

The committee is pleased to announce that J. A. Gooch of the Armstrong nurseries in Ontario, Mrs. Hunt of San Felipe nurseries in San Bernardino, and Mr. Taylor, county gardner, of San Bernardino, have very kindly consented to act as judges.

All entries in the show must be in place by 11 o'clock on Friday morning, April 28, and the judging will be done immediately after that hour.

No admission will be charged and the public is invited to attend the opening at 7 o'clock Friday evening. On Saturday afternoon the Woman's club will sponsor a hostess tea with a cordial invitation being extended to all who visit the show.

Funeral Service Held on Thursday for Mrs. Schmidt

In the presence of a large number of friends gathered to pay tribute to one whom they had known and held in high esteem for many years, funeral service for Mrs. P. J. Schmidt, who passed away Tuesday morning, was held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 in the Mennonite church.

The pastor, the Rev. A. J. Neuenschwander, conducted the service, being assisted by the Rev. John Lichti.

A quartet of church members, Mrs. L. M. Ledig, Mrs. A. J. Neuenschwander, Mrs. J. C. Mehl and Mrs. A. K. Toews, sang "Rock of Ages" and "Jesus Savior Pilot Me," Mrs. Emilie Roeben and Mrs. L. L. Harms being the pianists.

A great many beautiful flowers were brought by relatives and friends as a tribute to her memory.

The pallbearers were August Lichti, A. J. Lichti, L. M. Ledig, Oswald Hershey, E. H. Haury and Menno Beutler. Interment was made in Bellevue cemetery.

Routine Business on Council Slate

Business before the Upland city council last night was largely routine.

Communications from Ralph E. Swing, state senator, were read. They concerned an explanation of the effort to place at the disposal of this district state money for flood control.

Several reports were made and municipal affairs in general were discussed.

Within a short time the city will open bids for water pipes, to be laid north of Foothill along the extended line of Third avenue.

The Beer Fuss

The present situation with regard to beer is summed up by Tobias Larson in his Claremont Courier of last week—and we quote the following from his breezy and interesting way of telling it:

The country has gone goo-goo and ga-ga, loony and loco, batty and berserk, over beer. There isn't enough in captivity, legal or bootleg, to supply half the initial demand. The thirsty stand rows upon rows behind the dispensing bars lapping up beer.

Some states have it, some do not. In some counties it is dispensed without restrictions, in others with. Some towns sell it, some do not. Others which do not are surrounded by suburban territory where it is sold. All is confusion. Laws are contradictory, confusing, often futile. Laws and ordinances can't be abolished or changed quickly enough to comply with changing sentiment.

The W. C. T. U. and those who would save the nation should be thankful for the 3.2 brew. It has to meet the pure food law. Bootleg beer which users bought was, likely as not, made from soap suds and sour potatoes by infidels and lepers with only 3.2 per cent sanitation. You can drink legitimate beer and live to tell the tale.

Beer is back; booze is coming back like an avenging Nemesis. Michigan and Wisconsin voted some 3 to 1 to ratify revoking the 18th amendment. In Michigan, prohibition forces elected one out of the 100 delegates to the state convention to formally restore legal liquor.

Long Beach, always a Sahara, votes overwhelmingly to permit sale of beer. Riverside and Redlands business men complain bitterly because their thirsty are spending their beer money in San Bernardino and are petitioning city council for a popular vote on the question.

There is demand in Upland, Pomona and Ontario for a popular vote on the beer sale question. These are dependent, however, on action of the state legislature as to whether local option shall be permitted. The senate is for local option; the assembly is opposed.

No legal beer in Claremont, but those who want it go across the county line, buy it, and bring it in contrary to law. No longer is there respect for any law restricting use or transportation of liquor. In restaurants and cafes where law requires that sandwiches be served with beer, several people either divide one sandwich, or, as in one instance reported, pass a sandwich around "round-robin" style to satisfy John Law. Prohibition has had a terrible setback.

This is a land of theoretical majority rule. And the whole country seems to be overwhelmingly for return of legal liquor dispensation.

The present orgy will subside in a measure as soon as curiosity is satisfied. Breweries will catch up with demand. In the meantime intoxication results have been somewhat disappointing. It is still possible to drive on the highways. No little waifs have yet been seen at entrances of grog shops singing plaintively "Father, Dear Father." Instead, papa is most likely out looking for his modern female child who lingers somewhere with a cigaret in one hand and a stein in the other making whoopee with convivial friends.

The mistress of the White House gives out an interview to the effect that beer will be served in the executive mansion. Governor Rolph is photographed with a stein in his hand. Tax on beer and added employment is to bring return of prosperity.

Once a wife persuaded her husband to smoke a certain brand of cigars. He wasn't a smoker but he was a dutiful husband. She had read an advertisement that a certain number of these cigar labels could be exchanged for an automobile. The pile of labels increased but not fast enough. She urged her husband to increase the cigar consumption. He did. In due course of time the car came. And on that day she rode in it proudly—behind the hearse conveying the husband's remains to the cemetery.

Bill Asks Cut in Three Cent Postage

A partial return to two cent postage seems on the way, the three cent proposition having proved a great expense to the country instead of raising additional revenue as it was hoped would be the result. Postmaster General Farley has given enthusiastic approval to the recent proposal to reduce the rate on local letters to two cents—that is, on all first class mail matter intended for delivery in the city of its origin.

The experiment with three cent letter postage has been most disastrous. The hope was that with the increase from two to three cents there would be an increase of something near fifty per cent in revenue from that source. It was expected that some would cut down on their expense by eliminating part of their first class mail matter and using some other means to transmit their messages, but the decrease has been much greater than anticipated. Large department stores, utility concerns and municipalities and other large users have resorted to delivering their letters, statements, etc. It is now a question as to just how many of these concerns will return to the use of first class mail for this purpose when the rate is placed back at two cents.. However, it is evident that we may expect to see return of the old first class postage rate on local matter before long—and an increase in revenue should result.

Postmaster General Farley also hopes to cut $72,000,000 from the postal budget next year and says "no essential postal facility will be disturbed." It is said $30,000,000 of that amount will be saved by reductions in postal salaries and another $20,000,000 from revised rent schedules and transportation costs. There may be some revisions in rural deliveries, this to be in the way of longer routes and less carriers.

One rather radical proposal is also said to be under consideration, this being to discharge all mail carriers and award contracts by competitive bidding. Should this be done it would be the most sweeping change that has been made in the postal service since we have known anything about it. We do not believe the latter would be a good plan, as there are always too many who will take a contract for a much less figure than they should—and the result is that they are inefficient in too many instances and the work is not properly done. Economy is necessary—we all realize that fact—but we also know that the cheapest way of getting things done is not always the best. In fact, it is true in most cases that those who do things cheaper than anyone else are not competent to do them efficiently and a poor job or poor service is the inevitable result.

Isn't it terrible to have to breathe the air through which some of these foul radio programs come?

Some men are like a mule in one respect—every time they kick they lose ground.

Notes of Society

Williams of Lake Arrowhead, vice-president-at-large; Mrs. Herman Stock of Mountain View, treasurer, and Mrs. E. W. Brennan of Redlands, auditor. Mrs. F. W. For the opening session 85 club members and guests were registered, and more than 100 attended the afternoon meeting.

At the noon hour a three course luncheon was served at Hotel Ontario with the convention sessions being resumed in the afternoon at the club house.

During the business session the various club presidents and department chairmen gave reports of the activities of their clubs during the past year and it was found a very remarkable amount of work along various lines had been accomplished.

The afternoon speaker was Mrs. Albert Launer of Fullerton, president of the Southern district, whose subject was "Facing the Sun." The program also included a talk on thrift by G. A. Stannard in recognition of national thrift week.

As an expression of appreciation of her untiring services during the past year, Mrs. Garbutt was presented with a week-end bag, Mrs. George Bonnell of Redlands making the presentation in behalf of the federation. A gift also was presented to Mrs. Launer.

An enjoyable feature of the entertainment offered by the hostess club was the very excellent chorus singing by the Ontario club's chorus section. Miss Mary Jacobs was soloist and violin obligatos were played by Mrs. Beth Townsend.

Bridge Breakfast at Woman's Club House Delightful Event

With approximately 50 guests attending, the bridge breakfast given Wednesday morning in the Upland Woman's club house was a delightful social event, as well as a source of profit for the club treasury.

Mrs. J. F. Sawyer, chairman of the April finance committee, and her assistants sponsored the breakfast and were in charge of all arrangements.

Beginning at 8:30 a breakfast of tempting menu was served until 10 o'clock. The tables were bright with bowls of golden California poppies, and the same colorful blossoms were used effectively throughout the club rooms, the decorations being particularly beautiful.

The remainder of the morning was devoted to bridge playing, 19 tables being occupied by the players. High score prize in the progressive auction tourney was captured by Mrs. O. A. Thompson and table prizes were awarded in the contract games. Mrs. Sawyer also awarded a draw prize, this being won by Mrs. Royal V. Ward.

A handsome rug made and presented to the club by Mrs. Herman Hess, was auctioned by Mrs. Sawyer and became the property of Mrs. Nora M. Eells. The sum realized from this sale was added to the proceeds of the bridge breakfast, making a nice addition to the treasury. Donations made by several of Mrs. Sawyer's friends aided materially in decreasing the expenses of the party and thereby increasing the profits. The donations included bridge prizes given by Mrs. E. C. Mehl, Mrs. C. W. Hawks and Mrs. Hess, and orange juice for the breakfast given by Mrs. E. C. Rosenberger, Mrs. William Springer and Mrs. W. B. Sage.

SOME TAX MONEY BEING PAID HERE

60-Day Holiday on Payments Is Ignored by Those Wanting to Pay

Even though second half of the taxes on real property is not due now until June 20, due to the tax holiday, some Uplanders continue to pay their governmental fee, John Scott, local deputy assessor, said concerning the 60-day tax moratorium which went into effect yesterday. The moratorium was voted by the state legislature.

Some persons paid prior to the passage of the moratorium and a few have paid since the 60-day tax holiday was passed by the officials at Sacramento.

Taxes on personal property are being paid, but the amount of money received is not up to the total of a year ago. On tax notices sent out by the assessor's office, a note says that the money is due within 15 days. The note also asks each person to list all of their personal property that is subject to taaxtion.

The moratorium does not apply to unsecured personal property taxes and the notice on the bills is not ineffective due to the legislators' action.

County Auditor Vincent Roth has issued an appeal to "all taxpayers who can possibly afford to do so," to pay their taxes irregardless of the moratorium to prevent San Bernardino county's financial status from becoming "embarrassing."

The date on which the tax moratorium ends is June 19. Approximately $2,000,000 is yet unpaid on real property taxes.

Part of the time also was spent in discussion of plans for the circle's activities next year.

At the noon hour a box luncheon was served.

Those attending the meeting were Mrs. J. I. Countryman, Mrs. H. B. Hamilton, Mrs. John T. Boyd, Mrs. L. J. Horsch, Mrs. Bert Collins, Mrs. Andrew Millard, Mrs. Francis Warner, Mrs. Harry Potter and Mrs. Warburton.

In addition to the department chairmen recently announced by Mrs. Settle, she appointed two others at the meeting Tuesday. Mrs. Warburton was named representative in the Upland Motion Picture council and Mrs. J. T. Salisbury, publicity chairman.

Under the direction of Miss Lysle Merchant, music instructor in the schools, pupils of the sixth grade presented a short musical program.

Speaking on "Fads and Frills of Education," Mr. Cook declared that in the matter of education, as in other lines, the frills of today may become the necessities of tomorrow, and pointed out that early in the seventeenth century such studies as reading, writing, history and geography were considered entirely unnecessary and time-wasting fads.

Many people of the present day, he said, are adopting a similar attitude toward such educational activities as domestic science, physical education, kindergarten training, etc., and he explained the real value of the present day curricula.

Mr. Cook declared he favored economy in school administration wherever possible without detriment to the welfare of the students.

During an enlightening discussion of the California school tax laws, which he declared to be long outgrown, Mr. Cook said that tax revision, or redistribution, is more essential at present than is tax reduction.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Christ Jesus' words, "He that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved," constitute the Golden Text in the Lesson-Sermon on "Probation after Death" on Sunday in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

Among the Scriptural citations in the Lesson-Sermon are Paul's words to the Corinthians: "Now this I say, brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither doth corruption inherit incorruption. . . . For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality. So when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, Death is swallowed up in victory."

One of the passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, says, "Heaven is not a locality, but a divine state of mind in which all the manifestations of Mind are harmonious and immortal, because sin is not there and man is found having no righteousness of his own, but in possession of 'the mind of the Lord,' as the Scripture says."

GAME BIRDS TO BE IN BIG NUMBERS

Chino Game Farm Will Liberate Hundreds of Quail During Season

By Dale B. Frady

They are getting ready for production in a big way at the California State Game farm, three miles south of Chino, and next to the Los Serranos Country Club, according to Gene Platt, the superintendent. This week they are putting from 1500 to 1800 California Valley quail eggs in the incubators, and then raise the amount each Monday until the peak is reached in four weeks.

California Valley quail is the main type of bird bred, and where last year 3000 of the 4000 little fellows raised were turned loose, the total set free this year will be 8000, some to go into Canada and British Columbia. People wonder, perhaps, why they liberate so many of this variety when their cousins, the Mountain quail, would seem better. The reason is that the Valley birds perch in trees, whereas the others stay on the ground, and although a California native, the tree perchers withstand the winter snow and cold much better because they can find roosting places.

It used to be that bantam hens were used to hatch nearly all eggs, but the last few years the trend has been awey from that practice, and toward the incubator as the Valley quail and Chukor partridge babies, two birds bred most freely, are susceptible to the fowl diseases the bantams carry.

The Valley quail take approximately 22 days to hatch in the incubators; then are put in a brooder for another month before they are transferred to the large pens.

"The history of some of the game birds kept at the farm is quite interesting," Mr. Platt said. Take the Chukor partridge, for instance. This beautiful bird is a native of Persia, Afghanistan, Arabia and India and has to be planted on a soil of granite derivative; so when liberated, they are taken to the desert regions over east of the San Bernardino and San Jacinto mountains."

Then there are the Golden, Silver, Ringneck, English, Blackneck, Chinese and Mongolian pheasants, all with some peculiar little trait or history.

Because they were so maliciously killed, the bird farm people are not setting Ringneck pheasants free any more. They do not have time to develop before they are killed off. A bill before the legislature now, if made a law, would do much to help this condition. It would allow the farmers to raise and control the birds on their property. They would own the birds and have the right to control the hunting and hunting season.

Turkeys, a few years ago set free in great numbers in the mountains, are not bred any more. They were a little too tame, and often ventured too near to camps set up by prospectors and gold miners. The chance for an easy turkey dinner was often a temptation. Soon few turkeys were left.

Then there are the fancy little Crested Tinamous, hard to raise; the prolific little Hungarian partridges, the Gambel quail, and the Bob Whites.

What - Where - Why of Girls' Organizations

Girls' Leaders Entertained

Gathering from all sections of the Chaffey district, approximately 60 leaders and lieutenants of the several branches of the Chaffey Community Girls Organizations, met Tuesday evening in the club house on Third avenue when the executive board members, meeting in regular session, entertained with a buffet dinner.

This assemblying of the women who have given generously of their time and efiort during the year in the interest of the girls of the community, is held annually in order that the reports of their work may be heard by the board members and by their fellow workers.

The club rooms were beautifully decorated with choice roses and under the supervision of Mrs. Robert H. Henderson and Mrs. J. F. Grass, Jr., the board members served the large number of guests with a complete and very excellent dinner.

The dinner was served at 6:30 and later a business session was conducted by Mrs. A. L. Weber, president of the board, chiefly routine matters being considered.

Miss Ruth Randall, general secretary for the several girls organizations, gave a comprehensive resume of the year's work and announced coming events, among them being girls' field day to be held on Saturday, May 27. At that time all of the girls' groups will make exhibits of their work, including nature study, homecraft and handcraft, and there will be athletic competition, group singing, etc., with prizes being offered. There also will be prizes for the best general appearance of groups and of individuals.

Miss Randall also announced Camp Conifer will be open during the second and third weeks in June and that the Riverside girls will use the camp in July, sharing in the expense of the camp. The Riverside organizations also have cots which the Chaffey district girls may use.

The leaders of the various organizations also reported on their activities, giving examples of what the work means in the daily home life of the girls.

Much gratification was expressed over the growth of the Mexican Girl Scout troop organized last year, it having increased from a membership of 9 to 32 at the present time. The club recently organized at the request of Mexican girls in Chaffey high school, also is arousing much enthusiasm among the girls.

An inspiring talk on "Essential Qualifications for Leadership" was made by Mrs. A. L. Weber, and among the qualifications enumerated were inherent unselfishness, deep humility, great sense of responsibility, willingness to accept drudgery, sensitiveness of perception, a spirit of hopefulness, immense faith in other people, vision, and faithfulness to vision. Mrs. Weber also read the following prayer by Winifred Wygal: "Oh God, give us courage to change what must be altered, serenity to accept what cannot be helped, and insight to know the one from the other."

One of the remarkable things about this large gathering of active workers in the girls character developing organizaztions was that of the approximately 60 women present from every section of the Chaffey district, only one is a paid worker, that one being Miss Ruth Randall, general secretary, without whose trained supervision and coordinating aid the work would be very difficult.

Attending the meeting were Mesdames A. L. Weber, Gardiner Spring, Robert Nesbit, Mark Hickcox, R. H. Henderson, Sanford Ballou, Harriet Fleming, John Frost, Kenneth Hanson, W. F. Kitchel, H. M. Shattuck, J. F. Grass, Jr., H. O. Chapman, Faye Spencer, James E. Goodban, Harry Martin, Herschel Griffin, Evelyn Klusman, B. G. Waldapfel, Susan B. Mehl, Welles T. Ross, Jas. F. Hendricks, L. J. A Mediocre Congress

Reseda News: O. there's nothing to be wondered at, when the president laughs at the power he is able to exert over Congress. The fact is that he has to deal with a mediocre congress of weak, self eliminating politicians who are ready to crawl in the dust for the loaves and fishes. The present is no such congress as Woodrow Wilson had to deal with. There is no Jim Reed, no Henry Cabot Lodge, no George W. Pepper, no George H. Moses or men of that type, no men to give force and leadership to the congress. President Roosevelt is lucky in having such a supine aggregation to deal with.

Y. W. C. A. Dinner Meeting

Girls of the Chaffey Y. W. C. A. met in joint session Wednesday evening with young men of the Y. M. C. A., 80 members of the two organizations being present.

The meeting was held in the Chaffey apartment and was preceded by a dinner, the young people enjoying a pleasant social hour.

The program speaker was Thompson Webb of the Webb school for boys at Claremont. Mr. Webb recounted the very interesting story of the organization of his school and its gradual growth from a very small beginning to the successful institution it is today. Mr. Webb announced his subject as "Shoestringing," and emphasized the value of perseverance and patience in overcoming obstacles.

Other numbers on the program were a group of readings by Miss Nulah Hall and piano selections by Miss Anice Crabbe.

They were scarcely seated before one of them nudged his shipmate and asked:

"What does that word 'asbestos' mean across the curtain?"

"Pipe down," said his companion, "and don't show your ignorance. That's Latin for 'welcome'."

"WIDOWS" HONORED BY SCOUTMASTERS

Dinner and Program Enjoyed by Sixty Scoutmasters and Their Ladies

A merry widows' dinner, given by scoutmasters of Old Baldy council in honor of their "widows," was held last evening in Fellowship hall of the Methodist church with 60 scoutmasters and their ladies attending from the various scout centers in the council from San Dimas to Fontana.

Later assembly singing was enjoyed and O. A. Alderson of Pomona, scout executive for council, made a short talk.

The feature event of the informal program was the burlesque knighting of four scoutmasters, they being made Knights of the Pink Garter in an elaborate ceremony that was the source of much amusement. The knights of last year's initiation: Paul Schowalter, Harold Stickney, A. H. Bridge and H. G. Moore, conferred the degree upon Messrs. Ordway of Claremont, Gilkerson of Ontario, Walker of San Dimas and Bowen of Pomona.
